HAMMERSLOUGH BROS.

If we had reason to believe that some other store was selling any garments as good as ours at the same low price that we are charging we'd mark down ours like a flash.

The values here are big enough already, but it's a part and parcel of our retail policy, not merely to give good value, but to give better value than any other store in New York.

We'll do more than deserve your patronage; we'll command it.

The Span of Life and of Arthur Shirley, William Calder is going to do it. My friends were furious. They thought I must be crazy. They tried to prove to me that a man can never do two successful things, and that "The Little Tycoon" had ended Willard Spencer. Well, you know the result. I produced "Princess Bonnie" myself. I directed the orchestra, supervised the rehearsals, attended to the financial work, and did everything except sing the leading role. It ran for 10 nights. My only assistant was a cleverly disguised friend, Mr. Tyler, who did a good deal for me. Had I listened to managers and friends, where would I have been today?

The fact that Charles Frohman has engaged me for the coming season, I will probably appear in "The Amazons" next season, playing the part with which I have been called at the Lyceum. Mr. Kent is afraid that he will not be able to interpret the role of Mr. Williams. But, however, should be rather consoling than otherwise.

"The Bohemian Girl," who never takes a rest, will be trotted out once more at St. James Hall, where Herrmann's and other titled to-morrow night. When she will dream that she dwelt in marble halls for the benefit of the Summer stock, where there are one or two good things in the repertoire of the Rosebank Grand English Opera Company, the "Bohemian Girl" always gets the first hearing.

SAYS HE TALKED WITH GOWER.

Dr. Bickford Asserts He Met the Missing Man in Frisco.

Believes Mme. Nordica's Husband is Surely Alive.

(By Associated Press.)

PORTLAND, July 12.—The news contained in a private letter received in this city from London last evening conveying the information that Fred A. Gower, the husband of Lillian Nordica, who, it was said, was lost with a balloon eight years ago, on the banks of the Bosphorus, had been seen alive in that city, created a sensation. Henry A. Wing, at present editor of the Lewiston (Me.) Sun, and who, for the past ten years has been an active newspaper man in New England, submits these statements:

About two and a half years ago Dr. F. A. Bickford, of Bangor, who is a friend of mine, and who was also a schoolmate of Gower, told me that when he (Bickford) was in California, he had seen Gower and talked with him. During that conversation Dr. Bickford told me the following story concerning his seeing Gower after his supposed death:

"I know Gower as well as I know you, and went to school with him. He is not dead. When I was in California, I saw him. He was in a very poor way, but I was able to convince him that he was not dead. I went with him to his room. We talked together for some time, and he told me he did not go up in the balloon, but that a dummy was sent up and the crowd deceived, and that he disappeared."

As to the veracity of Dr. Bickford, there is no doubt, where was it seen, a large amount of money involved in Gower's estate, money supposed by many to have come from some mysterious deal between Gower and the Bell Telephone Company. This estate was entangled in several ways, and it was a matter of fact that Gower was a very poor man when he was seen by Dr. Bickford. He was an uncommunicative man, somewhat of a recluse, and his source of revenue was the Bell Telephone Company through Alexander Bell. At a late hour last night, the following interview was obtained with Dr. Bickford in Bangor, Me. The doctor said:

"I have known Gower since he was a boy in Sedgewick, Me. After his balloon ascension, I saw him with every one else, thought him dead until the year 1887, when I met him face to face in San Francisco. He was then tempted to brush me with his back, but I was not a man to be so easily brushed. I finally acknowledged his identity. There is no possible doubt of his being actually in the time of his ascension. I saw him with every one else, thought him dead until the year 1887, when I met him face to face in San Francisco. He was then tempted to brush me with his back, but I was not a man to be so easily brushed. I finally acknowledged his identity.
